MERCURY GOES DOWN TO ELEVEN DEGREES ABOVE ZERO

Coldest Day of Winter Followed Tuesday's Blizzard—Little Damage Done Here.

Yesterday was the coldest day of the winter, the thermometer going down to 11 degrees above zero. The suddenness with which the blizzard came and went and the fierceness with which it raged marked it as one of the severest storms that ever struck the city. All day yesterday the temperature remained below freezing but was slowly rising so that by nightfall only the snow remained as a reminder of the roughness of the previous day.

Newport News fortunately escaped with little damage. Beyond the interruption in street car service, and a few small vessels blown ashore, there was but little interruption to the usual course of business and practically no money loss of any kind.

GATHERING OF GREEKS.

Four Will Face Justice Brown This Morning.

There will be a gathering of Greeks in the police court this morning. Chris Gabriel was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Arthur Pachuris charging him with assault. It is alleged that Gabriel, who owns and conducts a restaurant at 2305 Washington avenue, forcibly ejected Pachuris from the building. Pachuris was an employee of Gabriel. Both were placed under bonds of $100 for their appearance this morning.

Nicholas Calopolos and Vasilis Jeme were each placed under bonds of $250 by Justice Smith for their appearance today. The man with the long name charged the other with stealing $40 from him. It is merely a coincidence that the four Greeks will appear the same day as neither pair is connected with the other.

ACT DONE WHILE AT BEDSIDE

While Feigning Prayer Dr. Matthews is Charged With Having Killed His Better Half With an Injection of Strychnine Solution.

(By Associated Press.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., Feb. 28.—Dr. J. B. Matthews was placed on trial this afternoon, accused of having caused his wife's death last December by injecting strychnine into her veins while feigning prayer at her bedside.

Three physicians were in the room at the time the act is said to have been committed, one of them, the county coroner, who swore out the warrant.

Dr. Turner made an analysis of the contents of the syringe and declared it to be strychnine and on this basis the indictment was returned. Today it transpired that a chemist at the University of North Carolina made a test of the fatal syringe at Dr. Turner's request and declared it to be morphine. A jury was selected to-day.
